New Imaging Software Consolidates and Simplifies Image Management Within Dentrix System

AMERICAN FORK, Utah, April 7, 2021-- Henry Schein One, a leading provider of dental practice management, patient engagement and demand creation software solutions, today announced the launch of Dentrix Imaging Center, an integrated imaging module that allows dental professionals to manage all images from within Dentrix versions G7.3 or higher.

Switching between multiple unique imaging modules and practice management software can add unnecessary time and complexity to clinical workflows in a dental practice. The Dentrix Imaging Center offers robust imaging software features in one solution, giving dentists a single, seamless imaging workflow inside the Dentrix practice management system, reducing the time needed to switch between the imaging software of various other providers. Dentrix Imaging Center is a universal, open architecture dental imaging solution, capable of acquiring, analyzing, and storing intraoral, 2D, 3D, panoramic, cephalometric, and CAD/CAM images from a broad range of imaging hardware.

"The launch of Dentrix Imaging Center advances our goal to integrate technologies that create seamless imaging workflows and enhance patient care. Dentrix makes it easier for dentists to manage their practice, facilitate the integration of new technology, and save time for both the practice and the patient," said Mike Baird, Chief Executive Officer, Henry Schein One. "We'll continue to find and create new solutions, like Dentrix Imaging Center, that streamline workflows so dentists and teams can focus on patient care."

Dental professionals using Dentrix Imaging Center also have access to a dedicated support system, with dedicated Henry Schein One representatives available to answer questions and resolve issues.
