

Henry Schein Medical Delivers Timely Industry Insights From Thought Leaders In The Ambulatory Surgery Center Market

January 5, 2023

Company Hosts Virtual Program to Address the Latest Market Research, Supply Chain Trends, and Staffing Best Practices Affecting ASCs

MELVILLE, N.Y., January 5, 2023 - Henry Schein Medical, the U.S. medical business of Henry Schein, Inc. (Nasdaq: HSIC), recently hosted a virtual, on-demand event, "The Acceleration of ASCs: Industry Insights from Henry Schein Medical." The program is the latest demonstration of the business' commitment to delivering timely industry insights and information from thought leaders within the ambulatory surgery center (ASC) market.

"The Acceleration of ASCs" features key learnings and viewpoints from subject matter experts about the continued expansion of ASCs, including the addition of new procedures, supply chain management and supply chain predictions, and best practices for team training and combatting burnout. Additionally, the program underlines the value ASCs bring to help drive down health care costs and deliver convenient, quality care, with a message from Mandy Hawkins, President of the Ambulatory Surgery Center Association's Board of Directors.

Panelists from Henry Schein Medical included:

- Scott Jackson, Vice President of Surgical Solutions, on the state of the supply chain;
- Amber Lewis, Director of Strategic Marketing, on ASC market insights; and
- Erica Smith, Surgical Solutions Manager, on best practices for team training.

"At Henry Schein, we recognize the tremendous growth of the ASC industry and its impact on the health care landscape," said Mr. Jackson. "We will continue to champion the advancement of ASCs, while amplifying the safe, high-quality, and cost-effective care they provide patients. Serving as a trusted advisor that ASCs can rely on, Henry Schein was pleased to present this virtual program, which exemplifies our dedication to a very important industry that provides a good quality of life for medical professionals while delivering convenient solutions for patients."
