Through the Exchange, Dentrix Ascend customers can leverage information provided by participating vendors, such as app descriptions and links to websites.

The Dentrix Ascend API Exchange reinforces the Company's commitment to open architecture, with the Exchange open to all vendors who follow approved security and safety standards. The Exchange is simple to join via an online application form. In addition to receiving access to the program and Henry Schein One's network of thousands of practices and patients, participating vendors can also leverage resources, such as marketing tools and tutorials.

"We have numerous third parties who are approved and ready to share their expertise with our network, and we're excited to drive the growth of this powerful dental community."
