"On a day like today, Team Schein Members genuinely wear their hearts on their sleeves, and the color of our commitment is pink," said Maureen Knott, Henry Schein Vice President of Dental Product Advertising and an architect of Henry Schein's "Think Pink, Practice Pink" Program. "Breast Cancer has affected a family member or friend of nearly every person at Henry Schein, and it is a wonderful feeling to see this sea of pink and realize that we all share the desire to raise awareness of the importance of early detection and support cancer care."

Last month, Henry Schein launched its 2012 "Think Pink, Practice Pink" program, which has raised more than $500,000 over the past seven years to raise awareness of breast cancer and other cancers by offering a wide selection of "pink products" - ranging from health care consumables and practice supplies to apparel and gift items - to its Dental, Dental Laboratory, Medical, and Special Markets customers. Through the end of December, a portion of the sales of these special products will be donated to the American Cancer Society through the Henry Schein Cares Foundation.
