AN UPDATE ON THE CYBERSECURITY INCIDENT

To our valued suppliers,

As we announced on October 15, Henry Schein experienced a cybersecurity incident and promptly took precautionary action intended to contain the incident, including taking certain systems offline and other steps. Since then, we have been working with leading external cybersecurity and forensic experts, as well as law enforcement, to investigate the incident.

Henry Schein is now aware that a data breach has occurred that may involve sensitive information of suppliers such as bank account numbers and credit card numbers. We are aware that the bank account information for a limited number of suppliers was misused, and we have already separately addressed those impacted.

While we do not have all the details of which individuals' or entities' data may have been compromised, as a precautionary measure, we encourage you to strengthen your data security by changing the passwords of your bank and credit card accounts, enhancing account transaction authorization, and reviewing recent debits for any suspicious activity. You can contact your bank or credit card company to accomplish these tasks.

We also encourage suppliers to take the following two actions to eliminate the risk of an unauthorized debit. First, please turn on the "ACH Debit Block" feature in your bank account, and then require an additional level of authentication before funds can be debited from your account.

If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact a Henry Schein representative at 1-800-497-9503.

We deeply apologize for the inconvenience that this incident has caused and, as always, we thank you for your support.
