

November 22, 2023

Update on Cybersecurity Incident

Certain Henry Schein applications, including its ecommerce platform, are currently unavailable. The Company continues to take orders using alternate means and continues to ship to its customers. The Company is in the process of securely restoring these applications.

Henry Schein has identified the cause of the occurrence. The threat actor from the previously disclosed cyber incident has claimed responsibility.

###